PLAN A MONSTER TEMPERANCE DAY

"Drys" Propose to Make Strenuous Campaign For Votes, Once the Option Election is Called.

HAVE ENOUGH SIGNERS NOW

Men's Big Meeting, Women's Mass Meeting and Special Men in Every Pulpit.

That the "drys" of the city plan to make a strenuous campaign for votes in case they succeed in their efforts to cause the commissioners to call an election to vote on the liquor question, is evidenced by the fact that an anti-saloon league day is announced for Sunday, February 12, one week from next Sunday. In the afternoon a Men's Big Meeting will be held and at the same time a meeting will be held for women only. Anti-saloon league workers will fill all of the church pulpits of the city in a unified endeavor to win the city for the "drys."

It was announced today that the Men's Big Meeting, which is the second of the series this winter, will be held at the Main Street Christian church on the Sunday which will be devoted to a fight on the return of the saloon to Rushville. Senator Seaborn Wright of Georgia will deliver a lecture on the temperance question. The senator from Georgia is a man of unusual ability, so it is announced here, which, it is believed by the "drys" will attract an immense crowd. For that reason the Main Street Christian church has been selected. It will be remembered that the "drys" held a Men's Big Meeting two years ago, and the largest church in the city would hardly hold the immense throng of men.

The women's mass meeting will be held, probably at the United Presbyterian church, on the same afternoon at the same time. Although no definite announcement has been made it is promised that some very interesting talks will be heard. It is believed that the women of the city will join heartily in the movement to keep the saloons from regaining a foothold in Rushville.

The prominent leaders in the Anti-Saloon league, who have been heading the fight against the open saloon for years will fill the pulpits in all of the city churches here on that Sunday. Each church will be supplied with an attractive speaker who will discuss the liquor question from a logical and practical point of view.

The "drys" are confident of victory in the first skirmish—that of obtaining enough signatures to require the commissioners to call an election—if they are not defeated by Governor Marshall. The governor has not yet signed the Proctor bill and, until he does that, the "drys" will be unable to petition for an election. If the bill does not become a law by tomorrow night, the "drys" will be unable to file a petition, asking the commissioners to call an election before their first meeting in the month of March, Monday, March 6. In that case it would be possible for saloons to return to Rushville in case the Proctor bill is made a law.

It was announced at "dry" headquarters this afternoon that practically enough signatures had been obtained to petition the commissioners to call an election. If the bill is signed tomorrow, the petition will be filed in the auditor's office tomorrow afternoon.

As far as can be learned from Indianapolis no steps have yet been taken to introduce the new bill to Lenard Pickard Files Suit For Divorce—Alleges Many Serious Offenses Against Wife.

BOTH IN LIMELIGHT BEFORE

Lenard S. Pickard has filed a suit for divorce in the circuit court against his wife, Dora A. Pickard. The suit is the result of numerous family quarrels between the two. It will be remembered that only a few weeks ago the Pickard children were taken to the Spiceland orphans' home because the father was not able to provide for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Pickard have not lived together for some time. In the complaint Mr. Pickard alleges cruel and inhuman treatment and charges his wife with several serious offenses. He also accuses his wife of using profane language in the presence of the children.

THROW STONES AT BRAKEMAN

New Castle Boys Hit Lawrence Baldwin of This City and Seriously Injure Him.

IS PICKED UP UNCONSCIOUS

Members of the L. E. & W. Crew of This City Have Narrowly Missed Being Hurt Often.

Lawrence Baldwin, a Lake Erie & Western brakeman, employed on the Rushville division, was rendered unconscious late yesterday afternoon by being struck by a stone, says the New Castle Courier. The missile was thrown by a member of a gang of boys which was playing in the vicinity of the railroad tracks near Cave-ne.

The stone struck Baldwin in the head and knocked him senseless. Fortunately he was on a gondola car and fell in such a position as to prevent him falling from the moving train. Fellow trainmen saw the incident and helped the injured man to the ground, where his wound was dressed. He soon recovered from the unconscious condition, but suffered considerably from the deep gash cut by the stone.

The police were notified of the occurrence and are looking for the gang of boys who were responsible for the outrage.

For several weeks past the gang has been indulging in the dangerous practice of throwing stones at the train and trainmen. On several occasions the members of the Rushville division crew have narrowly missed being struck by the missiles.

MERCHANTS MAY CHANGE BY-LAWS

Discuss Plans for Enlarging Association at Meeting Last Night. Will Decide Later.

ACCEPT 15 STREET LIGHTS

One of the Posts Will Be Exhibited on the Court House Square.

At a spirited meeting of the Merchants' Association last night, several important matters were brought up and discussed.

A bill from the Scott-Madden Co. for fifteen of the street lights, which they have completed, was read and ordered paid. The amount was $765. The rest of the posts will be completed as soon as it is possible for the company to do so. Arrangements will be made to place one of the posts on the court house square, at the corner of Second and Main streets so the people can have an opportunity to see the post.

Several of the members expressed their opinions as to the best method of locating some factories here. All said they would be in favor of taking some stock in any good factory that might wish to come to this city but were not in favor of giving any bonus in order to locate here. The secretary was instructed to write the industrial agent of the various railroads entering the city and see if they could give them a line on some good factory.

Tony Schrictke made an enthusiastic talk in which he said that it was his opinion that the Big Wednesdays should be continued this year for if the merchants expected to reap any reward from their advertising in the past then they should continue this plan. Mr. Schrictke also suggested that they hold a banquet to create more spirit. President Cox said he was in favor of this and that a good time to hold it was the last meeting of the year which would be the first Thursday in March. The association will have completed their first year at that time and it is planned to hold some kind of special meeting.

The question was brought up as to changing the by-laws, so as to admit members other than merchants. The plan would be to broaden the association so as to include doctors, attorneys, newspapers, and anyone who is interested in the betterment of the city. Some men who are not members would take an active interest, if they were admitted. This plan was looked upon favorably by all those present.

The election of officers will occur the first Thursday in March and it was planned to discuss this question at the meeting to be held the last of this month. An effort will be made to have a large crowd present at that time and if the by-laws are changed it will take place then. The Association, while only about a year old, is in a thriving condition and the members think that if they broaden out, it will be a good move and worthy of the support of all the members.

The little girl suffered much pain caused by the fracture of one bone in her ankle. Dr. C. L. Smullen of Raleigh was called and reduced the fracture. It is believed that the little girl will recover in a few days.

FEARS SON MAY DO HIMSELF HARM

W. L. Miller Searches Country For Frank Miller, Who is Strangely Missing Since Tuesday.

HE ONCE ATTEMPTED SUICIDE

Even though local people regard St. Paul news as a bit of a joke, the little town on the county line has a greater propensity for news than many towns of population many times as great. That is evidenced by the fact that there is something happening there almost continually and today comes the announcement that Frank Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Miller, an eccentric bachelor, has been missing from his home since Tuesday evening. By reason of the fact that Miller attempted to commit suicide two years ago by taking carbolic acid, relatives are led to believe that he may have wandered away or may have done himself bodily harm. The father of the man asserts that his son has been acting rather strangely for several weeks and that only one day recently he came to him and wanted money to go to Wisconsin. The parents have obtained the assistance of friends and they are searching the country near St. Paul for him.

HEAR OF SISTER'S DEATH IN ILLINOIS

John and Will Wallace Get Telegram, Announcing Demise of Mrs. Scott Prindle.

LEFT HERE FORTY YEARS AGO

According to word received here this morning in a telegram, Mrs. Ellen Prindle, wife of Scott Prindle and sister of Will and John Wallace, died at her home in Benton, Ill., early this morning. Mrs. Prindle was formerly Miss Ellen Wallace of this city. She left here about forty years ago, after having been born and reared in this county. She was sixty-one years old. Mrs. Prindle's death was caused by pneumonia and came after a comparatively short illness. She will best be remembered by the older residents of the city, who lived here while her husband was employed here in pushing the C. H. & D. railroad through Rush county. The two brothers here will go to Benton, Ill., Sunday to attend the funeral.

MISS VALUABLES FROM THE HOUSE

Members of Summie Green Family Learn Too Late, They Have Been Robbed.

RING, WATCH AND CHAIN GONE

Were Awakened Last Monday Night by Thieves Who Attempted to Raid Barn.

Just yesterday members of the Summie Green family, living on the Mull pike, six and one-half miles southwest of the city, discovered that a valuable watch, ring and watch chain had been stolen from their home. How they disappeared or by what route the members of the family are unable to determine. They firmly believe that robbers entered their house while they were asleep and stole the valuables.

The members of the family have every reason for believing that assertion on account of the happenings of last Monday. Sometime late last Monday night the family was awakened by a noise in the barn. The men of the household went to the barn and found that all of the horses had been cut loose in their stalls and herded into the lot back of the barn. One buggy had been run out of the shed while the carriage was about half way out of the barn.

The members of the family could get no trace of the supposed robbers. They were led to believe that an attempt had been made to steal all of their horses as well as their vehicles. The thieves evidently made a quick exit as they could not be found in the vicinity.

The incidents of Monday night caused the members of the family to believe that their house was robbed before the thieves attempted to rob the barn. They placed the jewelry in a box last Monday morning and did not miss it until yesterday. It may be possible that it was stolen Monday night. The ring and watch were both engraved with the owner's name.

SAY THEY ARE NOT MARRIED

Berlin Caldwell Asserts That Reported Wedding is a Fake.

Even though Miss Mary Carroll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Carroll of 902 West First street, and Berlin Caldwell went to Indianapolis yesterday morning, after having procured a marriage license here, they returned last evening and stated that they were not married. The alleged bridegroom said today that they were not married and that they had only gone to see a show. The father of Miss Carroll refused to be interviewed on the subject and would not make any statement at all in regard to the reported marriage.

Gray Hair Restored

My hair was getting quite gray and falling out rapidly and I was troubled with a terrible itching of the scalp. My head was full of dandruff, which fell upon my clothes and kept me continually brushing it off. While on a visit to Rochester I heard of your Sage and Sulphur for the hair. I got a bottle and used it. A few applications relieved the itching, my hair stopped falling out and gradually came back to its natural color. It is now a nice dark brown color, soft, glossy and pliable. Several of my friends want to use it, and I want to know what you will charge me for six bottles of it.

Grew Hair on a Bald Head

For two or three years my hair had been falling out and getting quite thin until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four months ago I commenced using Sage and Sulphur. The first bottle seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is fairly covered and keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.

THE NEXT CONGRESS A TROUBLE BREEDER

Both Sides Fixing for One Continuous Quarrel.

Washington, Feb. 3.—The line of cleavage between the regular and progressive factions in the Republican party will be more sharply drawn in the new congress than it is at present, according to statements made by house leaders. In the Republican caucus to be held next December prior to the organization of the house, Joseph G. Cannon is to be put forward by the regulars as their candidate for the minority leadership. Representative Norris of Nebraska will be nominated as the insurgent candidate for the honor. Of the 163 Republicans who will be members of the next house the majority are recognized as regulars. The insurgents contend that they will have fifty-five members of their band when the roll is called in the new house. As every one of them is a Cannon hater, the fear is expressed by Republican leaders that the minority in the new house will be badly split from the beginning.

Under the plan adopted by the Democrats, house committee places in the new congress are to be filled by the ways and means committee, of which Representative Underwood will be chairman. Mr. Norris and his followers will insist that in making assignments their rights shall be respected. From present indications the Republicans will be represented on each of the important house committees by six members. It is the purpose of Norris and his followers to ask that they be given proportionate representation on each committee, that is two places, as compared with four for the regulars. The Democrats will likely consent to this, as it will tend further to emphasize the factional troubles in the Republican party. While the Democrats expect to have their own troubles in the new house, they are hopeful that squabbles in the Republican minority will prove diverting at times.

FOR HER OWN

Senator Elkins's Widow Reduces First Wife's Offspring's Shares.

Elkins, W. Va., Feb. 3.—Mrs. Stephen B. Elkins has filed a written renunciation of the provisions made for her under her husband's will in order that her five children may ultimately inherit a greater portion of the large estate left by her husband. Under the laws of West Virginia Mrs. Elkins is entitled to one-third of the property, both real and personal. The senator's will provided that all of the children, including the two by his first wife, should share alike. Mrs. Elkins was dissatisfied with the arrangement, and by insisting upon her dower rights, she will secure absolutely anywhere from six to eight million dollars, leaving the remaining two-thirds to be equally distributed among the seven children. While the amount they will share will not be so large as they would have received had the will been allowed to stand, the widow can, by leaving all of her holdings to her own children, materially increase their proportion while the shares of the two by the first wife will be correspondingly decreased. The latter are Mrs. Welderseim and Mrs. Oliphant. Mrs. Elkins's children are David, Richard, Stephen, Jr., Delaine and Katherine.

Edwardsville, Ill., Feb. 3.—George Burton of Alton, a wrestler, who killed two men by strangling them with his bare hands, was found not guilty by a jury.

The verdict applies to the death of Louis Weibrech, whom Burton, according to his testimony, strangled after he had choked Leo Wentz to death. Burton testified the men were trying to rob him.

There is a fair prospect for activity on the house on the Ballinger-Pinchot case before adjournment.

Lesson VI.—First Quarter, For Feb. 5, 1911.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, I Kings xvii, 1-16. Memory Verses, 14-16—Golden Text, Ps. xxxiv, 10—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The first sentence of our lesson tells us all we know of the parentage of Elijah. He comes before us as suddenly as a meteor and disappears when his work is done in a way that no one else ever did before or since. Enoch also was translated without dying, but we read of no whirlwind or horses and chariots of fire. Elijah was honored to stand with the Lord Jesus and with Moses on the Mount of Transfiguration, and Jesus said of him, "Elijah truly shall first come and restore all things," adding that he had already come in the person of John the Baptist, but they knew him not and ill treated him (Matt. xvii, 3; xi, 13). Therefore we conclude that John the Baptist, who came in the spirit and power of Elijah, was to the first coming of Christ what the real Elijah will be to His coming in glory to set up His kingdom. When some who will be more wicked than Ahab and Jezebel shall be showing the power of the devil, then Elijah and a companion shall be the Lord's two witnesses in Jerusalem (Rev. xi, 3-11).

His name means "my God is Jah," and one has said that he is the grandest and most romantic character that Israel ever produced. His one mission was to bring apostate Israel back to Jehovah the true God. He was nurtured in lonely communion with God, away from the polluting court amidst his native wilds (Pausset). His first utterance is, "The Lord God of Israel liveth, before whom I stand (verse 1; see also xvii, 15, and II Kings iii, 14). We think of Gabriel's testimony, "I am Gabriel that stands in the presence of God" (Luke i, 19), and he it was who said that the son of Zacharias should go in the spirit and power of Elijah. Israel had been faithfully warned that if they turned aside to serve other gods and worship them the Lord would shut up the heaven that there be no rain (Deut. xi, 16, 17), so that Elijah's prayer that it should not rain (Jas. v, 17) was simply prayer that God would do as He said and make good His word and show Himself as the living and true God, for if He failed to fulfill His threat the people would think it an idle tale.

Elijah could say, "In the Lord have I righteousness and strength;" "I rest on Thee, and in Thy name I go" (Isa. xlvi, 24; II Chron. xiv, 11). Therefore he was not afraid to meet Ahab or to deliver his message. This being done, he receives two distinct messages from the Lord telling him where to sojourn for the next three years, and first he is told to hide himself by the brook Cherith and is assured that the ravens would feed him there. He did just as he was told, and the Lord fed him with bread and flesh by means of the ravens morning and evening, and he drank of the brook. So well did the Lord hide him that he could not be found by nation or kingdom (xviii, 10).

from college and the theological seminary and having become an ordained minister in the few churches of which he has been the pastor, he has always had an interest in Christian Endeavor societies.

In a pastorate of considerable years now I have never had any friction with a Christian Endeavor society. I have largely given to the young people the full charge and responsibility, and they have nobly responded and kept within proper bounds. If the wheels creak at times a few words of caution or a suggestion—never a command, but well oiled with kindness and love—is sufficient, for the pastor's words go a long way and kindness much further, and constant active interest, which is the proof of real interest, completes the trinity that keeps the society running smoothly under the pastor's guiding hand.

In general it may be said:

1. We believe in Christian Endeavor because of the many evidences of God's hand having been in it all these years.

He has given it wise leadership, especially in its president, Dr. Francis E. Clark. Deep gratitude to God is due on this thirtieth anniversary that Dr. Clark, who organized this movement, still lives and still directs it. He, under God, founded it upon great practical principles, trained it up as his child in the way that it should go, and now that it has grown to a goodly age it still, under the guiding hand of God, using Dr. Clark as His human agent, strengthens and grows in societies and in numbers. No one can doubt or deny God's hand in this movement. Nothing else could account for its history. Therefore, believing in God, we believe in Christian Endeavor, for it is of God.

2. We believe in Christian Endeavor because it filled a long need in the church and in the world. How to hold the young people in the church was once its greatest problem. Christian Endeavor solved it. It interested the young people because it gave them something definite to do. The cry soon changed. Many thought the young people were too much interested and too attentive; that they seemed destined to run the church and to overthrow the denominations and carry church affairs with a high hand. Criticism arose thick and fast, principally from pastors who did not know their young people when they met them. One moment they were a dead factor, and the next they were too active a factor. But wise pastors were overjoyed and went in for the society with deep heart interest and found it a great help in the church. Flowers were on the pulpit. The aged were visited and read to. All kinds of institutions felt the touch of Christian Endeavor—hospitals, homes for the destitute and incurables; even prisoners in jails and penitentiaries heard the songs of sweet voices, and sailors on the deep sea were not forgotten, and thousands of "comfort bags," with a cheerful note or letter, gladdened many a man before the mast. Look at the great men's movement today—brotherhoods, leagues, men's meetings, the great missionary movement among men. All came up at the moment of greatest need to hold the men in the church by arousing active personal interest. Once we preached on "Why Do Men Not Attend Church?" Today the subject is, "Why Do Men Attend Church?" It is the greatest age of men's interest and attendance upon the church services since the Christian church was founded (if we may possibly except the apostolic age of the church) that the world has ever seen. Business men are interested in its work. Beginning as a boy, having since been graduated

If we obey Matt. vi, 33, we may count on its fulfillment, but we must be in the place where God wants us. Mark the word "there" in verse 4. The word here translated "raven" is used ten times and in each place refers to a bird so called. The Lord Jesus endorsed the Elijah story (Luke iv, 25-26), and if any part of it had been not just as recorded He would surely have told us. These lonely days at Cherith make us think of Joseph in Egypt as a prisoner, or Moses in Midian, or John the Baptist in the wilderness, or Paul in Arabia. Nothing can take the place of being alone with God. Then we must learn to wait patiently God's time and find our rest and joy in Himself. If His gifts seem to fail us, like the brook that dried up, He has some other way. He cannot fail; He abideth faithful.

He has promised never to try us beyond our ability to bear it (I Cor. x, 13), and in due time He ordered His faithful servant to another place of sojourn, but what an unlikely place it was as we see things—the home of a poor widow who had no food in the house but a handful of meal and a little oil. Elijah found her gathering sticks with which to make, as she thought, her last cake, and then she expected that she and her son would die (verse 12). But by giving her all to the Lord's servant, as the lad did his loaves and fishes, several were fed for many days, and the meal wasted not, neither did the cruse of oil fail (verse 16).

From our lesson it would seem that the prophet was sent to the widow that she might sustain him (verse 9), while from the record in Luke iv, 25, 26, it appears that Elijah was sent to the widow that she might be sustained. Well, it worked both ways, and the widow was sustained by her giving her all to the Lord. No doubt He also cared well for that other widow who cast all her living into the treasury. God was also glorified in this Sarepta home by the raising to life of the widow's son, thus strengthening her faith in the God of Elijah, according to verse 24, "Now, by this I know that thou art a man of God and that the word of the Lord in thy mouth is truth."

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning Feb. 5, 1911.

Topic—Why do you believe in Christian Endeavor? (Christian Endeavor day—Prov. xxii, 6; vll, 12-17, 32-36. Edited by Rev. Sherman H. Doyle, D. D.

The Christian Endeavor movement is now thirty years old, the first society having been organized by the Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark, pastor of the Williston Congregational church, in Portland, Me., Feb. 2, 1881. Nearly a third of a century has passed by since this small beginning, and it continues today, an interdenominational and international organization with its societies and its work worldwide in extent. Thousands were enrolled under the banner of "Christ and the church," and the thousands have been advanced to millions. Many of its first adherents in the early years of its spreading are still active in its service. The present writer was a member of the second society, organized in the state of Ohio in 1884, and has never ceased to have an active interest in its work. Shopping at Home

THE most clever and progressive women have learned the immense advantage of carefully reading the advertisements.

Those who are more dull of apprehension prefer to wander around in different stores hunting for the special bargains and unusually attractive articles.

The up-to-date woman of today sits down and takes her paper and reads the advertisements carefully before she goes "shopping."

She has learned by experience that the merchant who is up-to-date in his methods and has the most desirable offerings, is the one who makes his influence felt through his advertising.

If he did not do this he would not be an up-to-date merchant.

The back number merchant does not advertise.

Shopping at home, looking through the ads, before you start out, saves time and annoyance and is sure to result in both economy and satisfaction.

It pays to read the advertisements.

The Democratic idea of statesmanship—to prevent the wicked Republicans from deceiving the country by passing good laws.

Portugal has put her exiled Manuel on a pension of $40,000 a year. This may be enough for Manuel since Gaby des Lys, the danseuse, has renounced him.

The decision by the judges of the National Corn Exposition that Indiana grows the best corn in the world is arousing the jealousy of Illinois, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska.

Champ Clark is one of the Democrats who voted for the tariff board bill in the House, but only thirty-nine other Democrats voted with him. If Champ is getting lonesome thus early in the near future must strike him as squarely.

If the House approves the bill already passed by the Senate 612 additional army officers will be appointed to serve as instructors of organized militia schools in the various States. The advantages of the National Guard are well worth the attention of the youth of the country.

Even Indiana is not entirely free from vote buying and selling. Investigations have been started in two or three places in the State. The grand jury in Laporte county may be called upon to investigate as it is alleged that there has been wholesale vote buying going on there.

Dissatisfaction with the new local option law increases as the people learn all of its provisions. The new law makes it necessary for the drys to call an election every two years even if they do carry a city or township. True to the contract with the brewers the Democratic legislature places every possible burden on those who wish to get rid of the saloon. Under the old dry law territory remained dry until the wet's called and carried an election, and likewise wet territory remained wet until the drys called and carried an election. This was fair and just to both sides.

It appears that the Democracy represented in the legislature and State House is in a state of political chaos. The leaders in both houses are quarreling among themselves and the feud between some of them and Governor Marshall is more bitter than that which arose between Governor Hanly and many Republican leaders. There was only one thing on which the majority could agree—and that was the repeal of the county local option law. The bill enacted in place of the county option law now hangs fire, awaiting the signature of the governor. Meanwhile protests are arising against the measure from all over the State. Just what the final fate of the bill will be is difficult to foretell at this time.

Watson Threw Bouquets at It.

(Marion Chronicle.)

The senate finance committee which, according to the Indianapolis insurgent press, was bitterly opposed to the Canadian reciprocity treaty, is preparing to report it favorably, and James E. Watson, who went to Kansas to attack the national administration threw bouquets at it. All this, of course, is not because these newspapers lied about the real situation in the first place, but because the reactionaries, who are indifferent to public opinion, took fright at the headlines in Indianapolis papers.

clarify the Proctor bill. It was announced yesterday that another bill would be presented which would eliminate one of the worst "jokers."

LOCAL OPTION TALK.

(New Castle Times.)

(Cambridge City Tribune.)

(Kokomo Tribune.)

The petition asking the county commissioners to order a local option election in Kokomo now bears the signatures of approximately 1200 of the bona fide voters of the city. The petition, however, has not yet been filed with the county auditor. It is all in readiness to be filed just as soon as the committee in charge gets the word that Governor Marshall has signed the Proctor bill and that measure has become a law.

(Columbus Republican)

Temperance people are charging that the "wet" element of the State legislature has been doing a little manipulating to keep the new Proctor option bill from being signed until the time has elapsed when petitions for elections might be filed for consideration at the February meeting of the county commissioners.

Throughout the state the county commissioners meet the first Monday in each month and the meeting date this month will be February 6. The petitions for special elections, under the new law, must be filed five days before the meeting of the commissioners. The new bill was to go to the governor for his signature several days ago, but first one thing and then another has been found wrong with it and temperance people charge that the delay has been to keep it back until after the time was up when petitions for elections could be filed. It is now too late to file a petition for consideration this month anywhere in the State and the temperance people say there will be no further delay in getting the bill to the governor.

(Connersville Examiner.)

The Anti-Saloon League of the city will hold a meeting this evening at which time those who have been circulating petitions to call a local option election will report.

Several petitions have been in circulation since last Sunday. Some of them have been heard from but not all of them. Those who have been heard from report progress satisfactory to the anti-saloon forces, but it was not known this afternoon how many signatures have been secured.

If the law calls for twenty per cent of the number of votes cast for mayor at the last city election 392 signatures are necessary to the petition. If it calls for twenty per cent of the votes cast for secretary of State the number required is about 425.

(Marion Chronicle.)

A meeting of "dry" workers will be held at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium this evening at 7:30 o'clock to consider what further is to be done this week in the matter of pushing petitions for a local option election under the new law.

It is stated on good authority that if the delay of the governor makes it impossible for the people of the county to get a petition before the commissioners at the February term, a big "petition in boots" will request the commissioners to announce that no liquor licenses will be granted before elections are held, in view of the announced determination of the people of all the units in the county to contest their return. In Randolph saloons have been kept out for many years by a simple refusal of the commissioners to grant licenses, and it is believed that Grant county commissioners will decline to permit the imposition of saloons on the county by any sort of trickery. Should saloon licenses be granted in March it would require several months for the people to put them out again. If the governor signs the local option bill today or tomorrow, it was announced, petitions will be presented at the February term, and if the delay makes it impossible to file the petitions next week they will be prepared for the next term and the commissioners asked to announce a policy of no license pending this action.

WANTS BILL AMENDED

Manilla Man Writes Missive to Senator Concerning Liquor Agitation.

Here is a mean letter that Senator Wood received from Manilla, says the Shelbyville News. The letter, after addressing the Senator as "Honored Sir," says:

"I would have you offer this amendment on the brewers bill: 'Be it enacted, that each container of intoxicating liquors bear on its label the photograph of Governor Marshall and also that said label should be put on each individual that becomes intoxicated with such intoxicating liquors, and that each label should bear in large print the word 'Democracy.' This is a distinction that the Democratic party has earned."

"I think I shall prepare a bill in accordance with that letter," said Senator Wood.

SOCIETY NEWS

Mrs. Lincoln Gary entertained a company at Bridge this afternoon at her home in North Harrison street.

* * *

Mrs. John Cooning entertained the L. E. C. Club at her home in North Sexton street yesterday afternoon.

Probably the most enjoyed dance, from the view point of the dancers, was the affair given in the Social club house last evening. The dance was formal and very beautiful in all of its appointments. Over fifty couples were in attendance, which included many guests from out of the city. A light luncheon was served all during the evening so that members of the company could have refreshments at any time and for that reason no intermission was taken all during the evening from the time the grand march, led by Mr. and Mrs. Will Bliss was started at nine o'clock until the last dancer left the floor.

The music, which is conceded to be the best which was ever heard for any local affair, enlivened the occasion considerably. An orchestra, composed of colored musicians, furnished the music.

Among visitors who were guests of members of the club were: Miss Mildred Carson of Dayton, Ohio; Miss Freddie Marie Farquhar of Muncie; Miss Susie Elliott of Knights- town; Miss Lucy Hughes of Richmond, Missouri; Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Tucker of Indianapolis; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Harkrader of Indianapolis; Rodney Haylor of Muncie, and Wray DePrez of Shelbyville.

RUSHVILLE NOT IN PATH OF ECLIPSE

Local Observers Will Get Poor View of Heavenly Event Which is Scheduled For April.

ONE COMING NEXT OCTOBER

Astronomers are bewailing the fact that the total eclipse of the sun, April 28, will not be seen in the United States. The eclipse will be total only over a part of the Pacific ocean, which includes the Samoan and Friendly Islands and a small part of the southeast coast of Australia. The line of total eclipse will be in the form of a path seventy-five miles in width from southeastern Australia to the equator, near South America. In this path the eclipse will be total for from two and a half to five minutes. To see the eclipse, scientists would have to make the trip in steamers and take the risk of missing the path and of bad weather.

According to Professor Coggshall, who has charge of Kirkwood Observatory at Indiana University, the partial eclipse will be visible about sunset in Indiana. If the weather is fair the moon will be seen cutting across the southern edge of the sun and will darken a small part of the disk for half an hour. Indiana is barely within the northern limit of the eclipse. Scientists are looking forward, however, to the eclipse of next October, when the moon will pass between the earth and the sun.

CHAPTER XIII.

"I TOOK—some of—that money." Avery finally managed to say as he saw his two friends before him.

"And you put it back," smiled Valentine. "The minute you touched it you found you couldn't."

"That's it," put in Avery eagerly as he arose and proceeded to aid Red in restoring the scattered money to its place. "I couldn't take it then. Now I can go out of here and know that I'll never steal again."

"You mustn't go until Doyle comes in, for he might see you on the street," warned Valentine. "When he comes you can go out through the vault room and make your getaway while I stall him here."

In talking with Avery, Jimmy Valentine unconsciously fell into the use of the vernacular of his early vocation.

With a parting handshake Avery went out into the vault room, where Red was to exhibit to him the big new safe. The assistant cashier, now that the tray of money had been replaced on the table, picked up the photograph, hung it in the place of another affixed to the wall at the right of his desk and inspected it with pronounced satisfaction.

The hall door opened, and Rose Lane came into the office. The girl was in a peculiar mood that day—there was no denying it. Valentine had always found his benefactor, young though she was, particularly difficult to fathom, and today she was more baffling than ever. She talked at length regarding her plans for the children's Christmas celebration, and, standing before his desk, while he stood behind it, she said, "And I want to know what you want for Christmas."

"Is there anything I could want?" he answered in low tones. "Think of what you and two short years have done for me."

"And there's never anything more you want? Don't you ever dream—of, say, two years more?" She turned her eyes to the floor.

"Oh, yes, to go on as I've been going these last two, since your father gave me a position of trust, and make everything good and pile up the money for you."

She drew away from him.

"Haven't you ever thought there might be something I want more than money?"

AN OLD-TIME PRESCRIPTION

In a modern product. From time immemorial sage and sulphur have been used for the hair and scalp. Almost every one knows of the value of such a combination for darkening the hair and making it grow. In olden times the only way to get a hair tonic of this sort was to brew it in the home fireplace, a method which was troublesome and not always satisfactory. Nowadays almost every up-to-date druggist can supply his patrons with a ready to use product, skillfully compounded in perfectly equipped laboratories. Such a preparation is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, which is sold by all leading druggists for 50¢ and $1.00 a bottle, or which is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

CORPORATIONS.

The greatest danger menacing Republican institutions today is the overbalancing control of city, state and national legislation by the wrong use of the wealth and power of public service, industrial and financial corporations. The influence which rules may be traced to the close association of political and corporate power. It is a complete system. It defrauds the people, defeats legislation in the public interests and passes laws for the special interests. The only power that can save the government from these corrupting interests is direct nomination, the initiative and the referendum and the recall. They are all expressions of the citizens' desire to wrest legislation from corporate control and restore it to the people.—Senator La Follette.

THE DOCTOR'S QUESTION.

Much Sickness Due to Bowel Disorders.

A doctor's first question when consulted by a patient is, "Are your bowels regular?" He knows that 98 per cent of illness is attended with inactive bowels and torpid liver, and that this condition must be removed gently and thoroughly before health can be restored.

Rexall Orderlies are a positive, pleasant and safe remedy for constipation and bowel disorders in general. We are so certain of their great curative value that we promise to return the purchaser's money in every case when they fail to produce entire satisfaction.

Silence with Valentine fumbling in embarrassment a pencil which lay upon his desk.

"Yes—I"—he began, but Rose continued his sentence for him.

"And it hurts you to think of it, doesn't it? Say it."

"Y-e-s."

"Go on."

He could endure the situation no longer. The girl had penetrated his very soul with her questions, had uncovered in Jimmy Valentine the secrets of his new life—the secrets which he had resolved to keep buried forever. But now he must speak. He must tell her the truth about his situation as regarded her—part of the truth, at least.

"And the thought of you brings darkness, desolation," he said, keeping a firm grip on the emotions that threatened to unnerve him. "What is the use? You're all there is to live for—to just see you now and then. You're all there is to life. Men have loved and slaves have loved and animals that have been saved have loved, but never were the three loves fused in one. And you're good, and your life is clean, while mine—but you know all that." He inclined his face from her.

"I have forgotten," she said simply.

"You cannot. And any day the shadow of other days may fall. But I want you to know this and believe it as your God—my love for you is a holy thing, sacred and deathless." Valentine was looking earnestly into her eyes now. His hand was resting on the desk. She seized it in hers and drew him toward her.

"Take me in your arms, Lee," she cried fervently. "I love you. I'll love you till!"—Her face was upraised to his as she clung to him. He held her in his arms and kissed her again and again. "How I have longed for you—years—years"—Her words were smothered in his kisses.

"There is no end to the happiness you bring," murmured Valentine at the first moment he thought he could spare his lips for conversational purposes.

"Oh," exclaimed Rose, drawing away at arm's length temporarily. "I want to tell you something, Lee, something

HE KISSED HER AGAIN AND AGAIN. I've known for years and years—she is going to marry."

He caught her into his arms once more.

"I love you. It will never end," he whispered fondly.

The telephone bell rang at his desk. As he released her and placed the receiver at his ear she encircled his neck in her arms and kissed him.

"Hello," he called. As the response came she felt a tremor run through him. Haggardness came into his eyes. He seemed almost to forget her presence.

"Yes, yes," he answered; "I'll see the gentleman in a few minutes."

He hung up the receiver. "God," he groaned. "Doyle!"

Valentine turned toward the girl, who surveyed him anxiously.

"What is it?" she asked. She saw that he was deeply worried.

"I don't know," he stammered, "but it is most important—most important."

"Well, I'll run downtown; the car is waiting," she said happily. "Then I'll come back and get you and dad and take you home."

His face had taken on the pallor that marked the visages of men who came from Warden Handler's game of solitaire.

"Yes, but should this man have business which would take me out of town?"

"But you mustn't go out of town—now hear me." She, of course, had not the slightest suspicion of the true importance of that telephone call.

"I won't if there's a way out."

"Well, just don't—just don't," pleaded Rose. "I am going to leave the children here to take care of you."

"Rose," he cried, going to her, "Rose, it was chance that brought us together; it was chance that brought you to a prison one day. Chance is uncertain, capricious, and that same chance may separate us suddenly."

"Nothing can separate us," confidently.

"Let that be our prayer to all the gods. But this I want you to remember—from my soul I love you. Now go."

Peculiar, Very Peculiar

Most antiseptics are poisons. It is different with Dr. Price's Plex 10cts. Plex is strongly antiseptic and can be taken internally for coughs and bronchial affections and has never known to fail to give satisfaction. It cures by killing the germ—the real cause of Catarrh. Bronchitis and Lung affections. It is very peculiar in its action and cures; and the price, only 10 cts a box. After you try it you'll say it's peculiar because it's sure results.

"She kissed her hand and waved it toward him as she went out of the door."

"Goodby, Rose."

He stood a moment; then, taking down the telephone receiver, he said into the mouthpiece:

"Hello. All right. Send the gentleman in." After a pause: "What? He's gone into Mr. Lane's office?" The telephone receiver fell to the desk with a crash. Doyle gone into the office of Mr. Lane, Rose's father! Here was a new complication, a new danger, one which Jimmy Valentine had not included in his calculations. Well, come what may, he must face the situation.

"Miss Taylor—Miss Mabel," he called, taking up the receiver and asking for the "central" of the bank's private exchange, "give me Mr. Lane's office. Hello, Mr. Lane. Oh, now regarding that Germond note, he says that be—Oh, you are coming into my office now with a Mr. Doyle? All right. I'll be here. Very well. Goodby."

The receiver clattered into its wonted position on the hook, and Jimmy Valentine stood at his desk awaiting the arrival of Rose Lane's father and Detective George Doyle.

LIQUOR BILL IS PUSHING ALONG

The Proctor Measure Subject to Amendments.

LIMITS NUMBER OF SALOONS

One of the Amendments to the Bill to Regulate the Liquor Traffic Will Limit Saloons to One For the First Five Hundred Inhabitants of a Town and One For Each One Thousand Inhabitants Thereafter.

Indianapolis, Feb. 3.—In the senate continued progress is being made on the Proctor liquor regulation bill. Among the amendments adopted is one providing for one saloon for the first 500 inhabitants of a city or township and one saloon for each 1,000 thereafter. The bill accepting the Long hospital gift and setting aside a portion of Military park as the site for the hospital, was passed. Committees have reported favorably on many bills.

In the house the Keegan child labor bill was reported out by a divided labor committee and made a special order on second reading for Monday at 2 o'clock p.m. The house passed the Clore bill to consolidate farmers' institutes and the extension work of the school of agriculture of Purdue university, the vote being 72 to 17. Favorable action on the bill followed a debate in which charges of extravagance were made against Purdue university workers, and in which Representative Mitchell repeated a story to the effect that farm school extension lecturers had ushered harvester trust plates to illustrate the lectures, and this to the disadvantage of Indiana binder twine producers. It was shown that Purdue was not back of the Clore bill, and the extension work of Purdue was strongly praised by many speakers.

Stenographers' Bill Killed.

The Seldensticker bill to provide for the payment of court stenographers in the Marion county courts out of the county fund for extra work in transcribing instructions to juries, was killed by the striking out of the enacting clause. This was the first time during the session that the enacting clause had been stricken out of a bill. Representative Wells was the man who wielded the cleaver, and he declared in attacking the measure that he did not propose to permit the payment of the money of the people to stenographers who already were drawing regular pay for doing the work required by the courts.

Another error on the part of the senate clerical force in making up the record of an important bill came to light when it was found that the records show that a motion to reconsider Senate Bill 105 prevailed, whereas, in truth, no vote has ever been taken on the motion, and it is still pending. This bill is one introduced by Senator Proctor, and provides that a foreign corporation shall possess no more powers in this state than it possesses in the state in which it is organized. The bill is one in which a strong corporation lobby which hangs on the skirts of the senate at all times is taking a very active interest.

Locating the Blame.

The blame for the error finally was placed on Howard Bell of Gary, register clerk. An examination of the endorsements on the back of the Brady motion shows that Arthur Jones, file clerk, had indorsed it, "To be reconsidered," making this entry to show the nature of the motion. Bell says, thinking the motion had been passed, he added the words: "So ordered," for the purpose of making Jones's indorsement more specific.

Senator Proctor was a very busy man in trying to locate the blame. At that time it was the disposition of some of those who were looking into the matter to make Jones the "goat." Proctor had the error corrected and after the responsibility was fixed made a statement that he was satisfied the error was unintentional on the part of everyone concerned.

Caught It Just in Time.

The bill introduced in the senate by Senator White for the purpose of giving city councils the right to fix rates to be charged for gas, water and electric service in all cases in which the rate is not fixed by franchise and in all cases in which a company is operating without franchise, was reported favorably with certain amendments. The bill as originally introduced applied to all cities, and would have repealed the Indianapolis 60-cent gas law. As soon as Senator White learned of this, and of the fact that the bill, if it became a law, might head off the movement in some other cities for cheaper rates, he favored an amendment making the bill apply only to gas rates in cities of the fifth class. This is the bill as it now stands.

The Luzon Earthquake.

Washington, Feb. 3.—Governor General Forbes of the Philippines has reported that the earthquakes which had been caused recently by the eruptions of the Lake Taal volcano were subsiding. Several hundred persons had been killed and many families ruined because crops have been destroyed by mud and lava.

Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to our attention and thinking they might prove of benefit, we procured a supply at F. B. Johnson & Co.'s drug store. The use of two boxes of this remedy entirely relieved the backache and strengthened the kidneys. THEY ARE HOT AT THE NEW MEMBER

Watson of West Virginia Lost the Day for Democrats.

JIM SHERMAN TO THE RESCUE

Vote on Ship Subsidy in Senate Was a Tie Owing to Unexplained Absence of Newly Sworn Member From West Virginia, and Vice President Cast
Deciding Vote in Favor of Measure—Democrats Hot at Watson.

Washington, Feb. 3.—The senate passed the ocean mail subsidy bill which authorizes the postmaster general to enter into contracts for carrying the mails to South American ports and to the Philippines, Japan, China and Australasia at a rate of $4 a mile on the outward voyage to vessels of the second class and $2 a mile on the outward voyage to vessels of the third class.

The amount of the subsidy to be paid in any one year, however, is limited to $4,000,000, and under no circumstances shall exceed the amount of money received on account of foreign mails. This is the first important administration measure to be passed by the senate this session.

The bill went through under conditions that give little encouragement to its friends.
On two separate roll calls on the passage of the measure, the vote was a tie, 39 to 39. The vice president exercised his prerogative of voting, and thus saved the measure from defeat.

They Are Hot at Watson.

Even then the bill would have failed but for the absence of the new Democratic senator from West Virginia, Clarence Watson, who took the oath of office in the morning at the urgent request of his Democratic colleagues, who were anxious to get rid of one Republican vote and as they supposed, add one Democratic vote in opposition to the measure. Mr. Watson was in the senate chamber during the early part of the voting, but disappeared later and could not be found. A diligent search was made for him. Furthermore, he left no authority to pair with him, and no pair was arranged.

Senator Scott, Republican, West Virginia, with a smile announced the absence of his colleague and ventured to suggest that Watson was "undoubtedly detained from the senate by important business." The Republicans enjoyed the situation, and the Democrats appeared much disgusted. They are hot at "Brother Watson."

Several Democratic senators spoke in opposition to the measure. Senator Shively offered an amendment which proposed to limit the amount of the subsidy to be paid in any one year to the receipts from carrying foreign mails, after deducting the expenses incurred in the United States on account of collecting and forwarding foreign mails. This amendment was defeated by a five majority, all of the Republican insurgents and Senator Burton lining up in opposition to the Shively amendment.
None of the Democrats voted against the amendment.

After Senator Shively's amendment had been disposed of Senator Stone offered an amendment admitting to free American registry foreign built ships not intended for coastwise trade. This amendment was lost by only two votes. Again the Insurgent Republicans and Senator Burton lined up with the Democrats. On the vote on the Shively amendment the new senator from West Virginia had been present and voted for the amendment.

Got One Vote, at Least.

Senator Newlands offered as an amendment his proposal to have the navy department build thirty auxiliary cruisers of 6,000 tons each at a limit of cost of $1,000,000 each. This proposal received one vote—that of Mr. Newlands.

Senator Jones of Washington sought to have the bill amended to make it apply to vessels to be "hereafter built," but Senator Gallinger pointed out to him that this would exclude the two ships of the Oceanic line now tied up at San Francisco. He stated that these were the only vessels now built to which the bill would apply. Mr. Jones then withdrew his amendment.

According to information obtained from government sources, more than 100 rebels were killed in the engagement with federals at Ojital. It is stated that the insurgents were dispersed and that the town and surrounding country is in possession of the federals. The losses on the government side are reported to have numbered less than ten.

JUAREZ IS IN A STATE OF SIEGE

Rebels Confident of Ability to Take the Town.

WILL SET UP A NEW CAPITAL

With No Means of Repelling Attack
Save Such Fortifications as Could Be Hastily Set Up, Mexican Town Just Over the Line From El Paso Seems to Have No Chance Against Determined Insurrectos.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 3.—With 800 insur-rektos marching on Juarez, about twelve miles distant to the south, all reinforcements for the border town cut off, and less than 300 armed men in the town, including volunteers, the rebels say they will set up the capital of Chihuahua in El Paso's sister city before another twenty-four hours. An attempt to get reinforcements into Juarez from Casas Grandes, where Colonel Roboga and command have been fighting rebels and taking defeats for a week past, failed when the Mexican officials were unable to secure trainmen to run a train down the line after them. It would have been useless, as the insurrectos, advancing on the town, held both the Mexican and the Mexico Northwestern roads and are advancing on the city in the shape of a fan.

Admit They Cannot Hold Out.

As showing the extremes to which the Juarez officials have been put, they blew up their own powder supplies.
They admit that they cannot hold out against the rebels, but are fortifying the city and preparing to resist. The federals dynamited a small bridge about twenty miles south of Juarez and then hid near the track to attack the oncoming train. The train bearing only forty-five men and high explosives, ran into the cut and the federals opened fire. The rebels replied and the fire of the federals set off the dynamite.
This literally blew the train to pieces.

The Juarez authorities are making absolutely no attempt to send out an advance guard to meet the rebels.
They have no machine guns nor field pieces in Juarez, but have fortified all the public buildings, where they make their stand.

CONTRARY TO LAW

Jersey Officials Say Dynamite Had No Right on Pier.

New York, Feb. 3.—The Jersey officials stirred themselves to find out who was to blame for the explosion that killed thirty men, injured hundreds and imperiled property on both sides of the river. They decided to put the responsibility up to the Central Railroad of New Jersey. The conclusion was given out that the railway had been handling dynamite contrary to law for several years and that civil and criminal actions would be brought.

Inspector of Combustibles Connelly said that it was up to the railroad to explain why the Dupont company was permitted to dump tons of giant powder on Pier 7, in direct violation of the state law. Investigation showed that the Katherine W., which was blown to smithereens on Wednesday, was an old offender in running dynamite through New York harbor. James Healing of Jersey City, who owned the boat and who leased her frequently to the Dupont people, admitted that the Katherine never had a license for handling powder, and he said he knew the Dupont people had not got permits for the Whistler and Repton, their own lighters.

Inspector Connelly learned that the Katherine had been ordered away from Manhattan last December, and that the bureau of combustibles had seized 2,500 pounds of dynamite and 10,000 percussion caps that the Katherine had dropped on Pier 8 in the East river, and sent them to Rikers Island.

Warrants have been issued for the arrest of seven officers and employees of the Central Railroad of New Jersey and the Dupont De Nemours Powder company, and for the owner of the Katherine W.

RUSH COUNTY, ONLY FACTOR

But Local Attorneys Have Voiced Little Sentiment in Agitation to Disrupt Judicial District.

FEW HAVE ANY OPINIONS

Question Was Argued Before Committee in Legislature Last Night

But no Action Taken.

Although Rush county seems to be the principal bone of contention in the attempted judicial circuit split, so far Rush county has been a silent party to the whole proceeding and has refused to express any opinion for or against. While there are a number of attorneys who would prefer to have the present conditions unchanged, there are a number of others who are absolutely opinionless. No lawyers from this county were present in the legislature last night, when the question of asking a separate circuit of Rush county came up before the house committee on organization of courts. The Indianapolis Star says of the session:

Attorneys from Shelbyville and New Castle argued the merits of the Billman bill, providing for the separation of the Rush-Shelby circuit court, giving Shelby county a court and attaching Rush county to Henry county last night before the House committee of the organization of courts. The committee did not reach an agreement on this bill, but will report for the passage Senate bill No. 1 separating the Greene and Sullivan county circuit.

The Shelby county lawyers argued that Shelby county should be made a separate circuit because the population of Shelby county is greater than that of Henry county and the latter is better able, for that reason, to take care of the business originating in Rush county. The Henry county lawyers opposed the bill because, they said, the rate of growth in Henry county during the last few years was much greater than in Shelby county, and it will in a few years outrank the latter in population. It was said that Rush county would prefer to be joined with either Decatur or Fayette county.

Former Judge K. M. Hord, M. O. Sullivan, Ed K. Adams and A. F. Ray, all from Shelbyville appeared before the committee. From New Castle there were Judge Ed Jackson, Mayor George Barnard, former Judge M. E. Thornton, former Judge E. H. Bundy, Prosecuting Attorney H. H. Evans, Fred Gause, Fay Holiday, Ed Delhi, W. R. Steele, Horace G. Yergin, Ed Smith, Walter S. Chambers, Guy Jones and Dr. F. A. Boltzer.
